++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry but cloudy in west. Turning brighter from east.

Today:
A mainly dry morning, with any thicker cloud to the west. Turning increasingly brighter from the east with sunny spells as coastal winds ease. Best of any sunshine towards the coast, where it could feel pleasantly warm. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Patchy cloud at first for most, with clearer spells in the southeast where a local early frost could develop. Thicker cloud and rain or drizzle spreading to all parts overnight. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Saturday:
A generally cloudy and murky morning with overcast skies and patches of rain or drizzle. Staying cloudy into the afternoon, but some brighter spells possible by the evening. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
A generally cloudy period, with brief brighter or sunny spells and light winds. Feeling warm in any of the sunny spells but with possible overnight frosts.
